Newsletter No 25
April 2005

Dear readers,
Winter appears to be behind us now as daffodils and lambs overrun the hedgerows, thrushes nest relentlessly and Spring bursts forth violently. What better time than this to seize the moment and read feverishly? In which case hurry to our three new reviews: Purple Hibiscus by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, The Good Mother by Sue Miller and The Member of the Wedding by Carson McCullers. We found all three powerful, moving and sometimes disturbing.

Our interview page features Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, in conversation with Chris Meade of Booktrust.

Our Bookgroup of the Month is the Belfast Education and Library Board Book Club. Happy first birthday BELB! We hope you continue to enjoy classic reads and noodles. Read all about them on our news page and if you'd like to be our next BOTM just answer the questions and send them to us at info@bookgroup.info and you will be rewarded with a book voucher for your group.

March's competition winners are: Victoria Cherry (Bognor Regis,) Elizabeth Mellor (Dunstable,) Philip Josling (Wirral,) Helen Pyke (Wigton) and Liz Fraser (Tarriff, Scotland.) Well done!
This month Click on the competition button this month to enter and win copies of Purple Hibiscus by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie.

Win books! If your book group is in Brighton & Hove, email 'Alice' to us and the first two will each win 5 copies of Alice in Wonderland as part of the City Reads.

The Reading Agency is launching a 'borrowers recommend' promotion which includes 21 of the most borrowed library books. Info is at www.borrowersrecommend.co.uk

A new idea in book sharing, mybookyourbook is an online cooperative library. Submit a list of 10 paperbacks you will share to www.mybookyourbook.co.uk and you can choose any book from their database.

Don't miss Cambridge Word Fest, 22-24 April. Authors include Graham Swift, Jackie Kay, Michael Morpurgo, Helen Cross, Alan Hollinghurst and others. www.cambridgewordfest.co.uk
And Cardiff's Bay Lit Festival, 16-24 April, celebrating Cardiff's hundred years as a city and 50 years as Wales' capital. Brighton Festival kicks off in May with MANY literary events to choose from. Go to www.brighton-festival.org.uk and look in books and debate plus fringe section – literature.

Check out listings/book a place in the audience for Radio 4 Bookclub at www.bbc.co.uk/radio4/arts/bookclub
Richard Ford, discussing Independence Day was broadcast on 03.04.05 to be repeated on 07.04.05. The next one will be Andrea Levy discussing Small Island (01.05.05 & 05.05.05, already recorded.) Next recording will be Joyce Carol Oates discussing We Were the Mulvaneys recording 20.5.05 at The British Library.

Penguin Books celebrates 70 years!
7 Cities, 7 Books is one highlight in the many birthday celebrations. Go to www.penguin.co.uk/readers for the list and to check out whether your city is participating. Also see Penguin Readers Day on Sunday 10th April in Oxford and download a form to enter the Penguin/Orange Readers Group Prize for the best book group.

PRIZES: Commonwealth Writers Prizes go to Andrea Levy for Small Island, Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie for Purple Hibiscus. www.commonwealthwriters.com
The Romantic Novel Association also awarded a prize to Andrea Levy.
